Introduction

Welcome aboard to the Dark Shuttle, where your darkest dreams come true. Unfortunately, the ship was attacked Trump Industries while you were asleep and you landed on Mucho Gordo, a planet that relies on oxygen. You are Obi Juan Kenobi, a space warrior that just woke up to a beeping alert, notifying you that there is a gas leak inside the ship, which could ultimately kill you. Due to the gas and the collision. you are currently dazed and confused without understanding what really happened, but your oxygen levels are extremely low. You find out your current location, but must find out how to exit this ship to survive. In your journey of survival, there will be items that you will require to exit the ship...but you may even find items that will extend your oxygen bar.

Rules

- Player must make the right decisions with proper moves to exit the ship safely via an escape pod.
- Each step the player takes reduces their oxygen level.
- Once you are out of oxygen or the level is at zero, the player will die and the game will be over. There are oxygen tanks scattered
- Player will also have an inventory where items can be stored. Certain items will be required to unlock the door.
